

Sima Kundu

Dr. Sima Kundu , an ex-student and ex associate professor of Bethune College is a true Bethunite as she spent about 35 years of her life and career in Bethune College campus. She took admission in Bethune College in 1969 and passed B.A.Honours in political science in 1972. She stood first among all the examinees of Calcutta University in that year. She completed his masters in first-class in political science from University of Calcutta in 1974.She was awarded her PhD degree by University of Calcutta in 1992. She joined Bethune college as Assistant Professor in the Department of political science in 1987 and retired as an Associate Professor from the same institution in 2013 after long 25 years of her service. She was also the guest faculty in the Department of Sociology, Rabindra-Bharati University. She has a number of publications at her credit. Her thesis has been published under the title “Personality and Politics: A Study of Political Participation in Calcutta”. She published a number of articles in the esteemed journal like Socialist Prespective and also in the Books entitled Alor Sarani Beye published by Bethune College and “Likhono Tomar :Katha Sahitye Banganari” . published by Bethune College Sammilani. She pursued her job successfully as President of Bethune College Sammilani for four years and as Treasurer for six years. She is a devoted and active member of Sammilani-which goes to her credit as a distinguished alumna.